| (Re-) Introductions (10 minutes) | All |
| Overview of what will occur on the call and a Review of Expectations (5 minutes) | Susan |
| Mini-Lecture: Where are we, and how did we get here?
A Brief History of Lifespan Respite Program that emphasizes why leveraging funds is important (10 minutes) | Jill |
| Quick Summary: Burning Issues and Markers of Sustainability: Funding and Stakeholders/Coalitions (10 minutes) | Susan |

Brag and Borrow: Where did you find that money (and who did you need to know to get it)?

Kathy Mayfield Smith with the South Carolina Respite Coalition will provide a state example of successful resource leveraging--how they made this happen, who was involved, and how they were involved (15 minutes).

Work in Progress Presentations:

Doris Green with the New York State Caregiving and Respite Coalition and Jean Sherman with the Florida Lifespan Respite Alliance are from two states that are working to make productive and mutually satisfying connections. They will succinctly present a profile of their work and any challenges they are facing (about 5 minutes each), and ask the group to strategize with them. (20 minutes)

Take-Aways:

1. It's not only money, it's resources (human, programs/agencies, space, time, expertise, information).
2. In order to garner resources, you need the right relationships and you need to make collaboration purposeful and meaningful.
