

In 2020, a record
24.4 million
Americans are expected to choose a Medicare Advantage plan.

97% of Medicare Advantage beneficiaries will have access to a plan with some dental, vision, hearing, or fitness benefits. Nearly 6-in-10 plans will provide all four.

of beneficiaries are satisfied with their quality of care under Medicare Advantage, according to a late 2019 Morning Consult poll.

Increasingly, plans are offering benefits that address social determinants of health. Includes care in the home, transportation to appointments, meal delivery, and home modifications.

Medicare Advantage enrollees report $1,276 less in total spending than beneficiaries in Traditional Medicare, due to cost protections such as out-of-pocket limits.

In 2020, non-medical supplemental benefits such as adult day care services and respite may be offered for the first time.

94% of Medicare Advantage enrollees have access to at least one $0 premium plan. The lowest average premiums since 2007 and the third consecutive year of premium decreases.

81% of Medicare Advantage enrollees will be enrolled in four- or five-star Medicare Advantage plans – the highest ratings for quality.

The average beneficiary will be able to choose among 33 Medicare Advantage plans, a 49% increase since 2017.

Medicare Advantage's population is increasingly diverse. Roughly 28% of beneficiaries are minorities, compared to 21% in Traditional Medicare.
