Lifespan Respite Grants Make a Difference

- The LRCP provides planned and emergency respite services to family caregivers, ensures services are person and family-centered, and makes respite more available and affordable to underserved families. See the NEW Key Accomplishments of Lifespan Respite Grantees.
- Grantees are delivering services and helping families pay for respite, including adults with Alzheimer's disease, MS, ALS or I/DD; children, adults, and the aging on Medicaid waiver waiting lists; grandparents raising grandchildren; rural family caregivers; culturally diverse groups and others identified as having unmet needs in the state.

- Grantees are addressing the workforce shortage through provider training and recruitment. Others have issued small grants to community-based organizations to start new respite programs or initiate innovative volunteer and faith-based initiatives to provide respite.
- Caregivers in NE's Lifespan Respite Network reported significant decreases in stress levels, fewer physical and emotional health issues, reductions in anger and anxiety, and reported being in a better financial situation when receiving respite. AL Lifespan Respite's voucher program found a substantial decrease in the percentage of caregivers reporting how often they felt overwhelmed with daily routines after receiving respite.

Respite – A Critically Necessary and Beneficial Family Support Service

- More than 53 million family caregivers of children and adults provide the vast majority of long-term services and supports to individuals of all ages living at home, yet 86% of those caring for adults, and a similar percentage caring for children, have not received respite services.
- Respite, the most requested service by family caregivers, has been shown to reduce stress and social isolation, help improve caregiver health and wellbeing, bolster family stability, keep marriages intact, and help avoid or delay costlier out-of-home placements.
- In a recent evaluation by the U.S. Administration for Community Living, caregivers who received 4 or more hours of respite care per week had a decrease in self-reported burden over time. As respite hours per week increased, so did the probability of a more favorable response regarding caregivers' perception that services helped them continue caregiving

Respite Reaps Cost Savings

- The economic value of respite is exceptional. Delaying nursing home care for one individual with a chronic condition for several months can save Medicaid, private insurance, or the family tens of thousands of dollars.
- In 2017, the estimated value of family caregiving of adults was $470 billion -- more than all out-of-pocket spending on U.S. health care in 2017 ($366 billion) for that year. Families caring for children with special health care needs provide nearly $36 billion worth of care annually.
- Researchers at the University of Pennsylvania studied the records of over 28,000 children with autism ages 5 to 21 who were enrolled in Medicaid in 2004. They confirmed that for every $1,000 states spent on respite services in the previous 60 days, there was an 8 percent drop in the odds of hospitalization.
- American businesses lose $17.1 to $33.6 billion annually in lost productivity costs related to employees' caregiving responsibilities and related stress.
