

A person wearing a dark suit and a white pocket square is holding a tablet computer. The tablet displays a map of North Dakota. The background is a blurred office setting with a window and a desk lamp. The entire image has a blue color cast.

North Dakota Health and Human Services provides a system of services and support to help individuals live independently in their homes and communities.